CBSE Class 10 English Question Paper 2023

Set - 1 (2/2/1) Solutions

SECTION A

Reading Skills 20 marks

1. Read the following passage carefully:

1. Organic food is very popular these days. It can also be very expensive. Some organic food costs twice as much as non-organic food. Parents of young children and even some pet owners, will pay high prices for organic food if they think it is healthier. But many others think organic food is just a waste of money.

2. There is one main difference between organic and non-organic food. Organic farms do not use agricultural chemicals such as pesticides that stop insects from damaging crops. In many countries, foods that claim to be organic must have special labels that guarantee grown organically.

3. Some people think organic also means 'locally grown' and originally it was indeed true. But over a period of time, organic farming has become a big business, with many organic foods now being grown by large agricultural companies that sell their products far from where also become more popular. At first, only small companies produced these products. But as demand overtook supply, big food companies that had been selling non-organic products for many years also began selling organic products.

4. Is organic food safer and more nutritious? This is an important part of the debate. Many farmers and consumers believe it is safer and more nutritious. They think agricultural chemicals can cause serious illnesses such as this is true. However, recent studies have shown that eating organically grown produce reduces your chances of developing heart disease. Many doctors think it is more important to stop dangerous bacteria from contaminating foods. These bacteria can contaminate both organic and non-organic fruits and vegetables, and doctors recommend washing produce carefully before eating it. Meat, fish and chicken can also become contaminated so washing your hands before handling these foods is also very important.

Based on your understanding of the passage, answer the questions given below:

10x1=10

(i) People are willing to pay high prices for organic food because

(a) it is not easily available.

(b) it helps in weight loss.

(c) it is produced by small companies.

(d) it does not contain agricultural chemicals.

Ans: (d) it does not contain agricultural chemicals.

(d) acceptance

Ans: (c) caution

(iii) Complete the following with a phrase from paragraph 3.

Opinion	Reason
Big food companies have started selling organic food products.

Ans: as demand overtook supply.

(iv) The writer contrasts organic food with non-organic food. State one point of comparison between the two.

Ans: Organic farms do not use agricultural chemicals such as pesticides, whereas non-organic farms do.

(v) Based on your reading of the text, list one benefit of eating organic food.

Ans: Eating organically grown produce reduces your chances of developing heart disease.

(vi) What connect does the writer draw between the contamination of food and washing hands?

Ans: The writer connects the contamination of food to the importance of washing hands before handling meat, fish, and chicken to prevent dangerous bacteria from contaminating the food.

(vii) The writer says that people believe that it is safer and more nutritious to eat organic food. Select the reason for his sceptical view.

(a) the price decides the popularity

(b) there is no confirmed evidence

(c) it is tastier

(d) it is marketed by big food companies

Ans: (b) there is no confirmed evidence

(viii) Supply one point to justify the following :

Some people think organic also means 'locally grown'

Ans: Originally, organic food was indeed locally grown before it became a big business with large agricultural companies selling organic products far from where they were produced.

(ix) Supply one method of how we can control the contamination of organic and non-organic food.

Ans: Washing produce carefully before eating it can help control contamination.

(x) List one factor that certifies food to be organic.

Ans: Foods that claim to be organic must have special labels that guarantee they were grown organically.

2. Read the following passage carefully:

1. According to a new study, a vast blanket of pollution stretching across South Asia is cutting down sunlight by 10 per cent over India, damaging agriculture, modifying rainfall patterns and putting hundreds of thousands of people at risk.

2. It is said, "Acid in the haze may, by falling as acid rain, have the potential to damage crops and trees. Ash falling on leaves can aggravate the impact of reduced sunlight on the Earth's Surface. The pollution that is forming the haze could be leading to several hundreds of thousands of premature deaths as a result of higher levels of respiratory diseases."

3. "The haze has cut down sunlight over India by 10 per cent (so far) - a huge amount! As a repercussion, the North-West of India is drying up," Prof. V. Ramanathan said when asked specifically about the impact of the haze over India. He said, "We are still in an early stage of understanding the impact of the haze."

4. Prof. V. Ramanathan was asked whether the current droughts in most parts of India after over a decade of good monsoons was owing to the haze. He said, " It was too early to reach a conclusion. If the droughts persist for about four to five years, then we would start suspecting that it may be because of the haze." India, China and Indonesia are the worst affected owing to their population density, economic growth and depleting forest cover.

Based on your understanding of the passage, answer the questions given below:

10x1=10

Subject: Need to Sensitize Children to the Plight of Elders

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the neglect of elders in today's society, as highlighted in recent news articles. It is distressing to see how the elderly, who have contributed so much to our families and society, are often left feeling lonely and neglected.

To address this issue, it is imperative to sensitize children to the plight of elders. Schools and parents should work together to inculcate values of caring and sharing. Children must understand the importance of respecting and supporting the elderly. Strengthening family values is crucial in fostering a sense of belonging and mutual respect among all generations.

By promoting intergenerational activities and open communication within families, we can ensure that our elders feel valued and cherished. Let us all strive to create a more compassionate and supportive environment for our elderly.

Thank you for highlighting this important issue.

Yours sincerely,

Mohit/Mohita

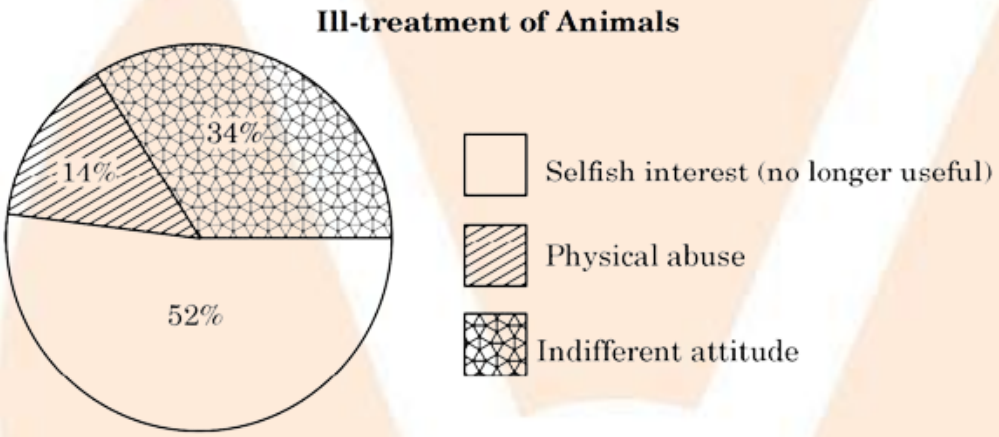
5. Attempt any one from (A) and (B) given below: 5

(A) It is distressing to see the attitude of people towards animals. The number of cases of cruelty towards animals is increasing. The following pie chart represents the attitude of people towards animals. Write an analytical paragraph in 100 120 words interpreting the data given in the pie chart.



Ans: The pie chart illustrates the various attitudes contributing to the ill-treatment of animals. A significant 52% of cruelty cases stem from people's indifferent attitudes, highlighting a widespread lack of empathy and awareness regarding animal welfare. This is followed by 34% of cases driven by selfish interests, where animals are abandoned or neglected when they are no longer considered useful. Physical abuse accounts for 14% of the cases, indicating that a smaller but still substantial portion of animal cruelty involves direct harm. These statistics are distressing as they reveal that over half of the cruelty cases are due to indifference, a preventable issue if awareness and compassion are promoted. Efforts must be made to educate people on responsible and humane treatment of animals to reduce these alarming figures.

For the Visually Impaired Candidates only in lieu of Q. No. 5 (A):

(A) Write a paragraph on how cruelty towards animals can be stopped. You may use the following inputs.

(i) adopt strays

(ii) put them in shelters

(iii) create community awareness

(iv) support animal care groups

Ans: Cruelty towards animals can be effectively stopped through a combination of practical actions and community involvement. One important step is to adopt strays instead of purchasing pets, which provides homeless animals with loving homes and reduces the number of animals left vulnerable on the streets. Additionally, putting them in shelters offers a safe haven for animals that are abandoned or mistreated, ensuring they receive the necessary care and protection. Creating community awareness about animal rights and the importance of humane treatment is crucial. This can be achieved through educational campaigns, workshops, and social media. Finally, supporting animal care groups through donations and volunteering can significantly bolster efforts to rescue and rehabilitate abused animals. Together, these measures can foster a more compassionate society and dramatically reduce instances of animal cruelty.

(B) Study the bar chart given below. The chart depicts the number of students in Class Twelve opting for the Humanities, Science and Commerce streams in urban and rural areas. Based on the details given in the bar chart below, write an analytical paragraph in 100 120 words.

Ans: The bar chart illustrates the number of Class Twelve students opting for Humanities, Science, and Commerce streams in urban and rural areas. In urban schools, Science is the most popular stream with 35 students, followed by Commerce with 30 students. Humanities is the least chosen, with only 10 students. Conversely, in rural schools, Humanities leads with 30 students, indicating a significant preference for this stream. Science follows with 20 students, while Commerce is chosen by 15 students. This data reveals a distinct contrast in stream preferences between urban and rural areas. Urban students lean towards Science and Commerce, reflecting possibly better resources and career opportunities in these fields, whereas rural students show a stronger inclination towards Humanities, perhaps due to different socio-economic factors and educational focuses.

For the Visually Impaired Candidates only in lieu of Q. No. 5 (B):

(B) You are Rita/Rohan, the Head Girl/Head Boy of your school. You decided to make the school population aware of the advantages of tree plantation and tell them how trees can serve as better air-conditioners.

Write an analytical paragraph in 100 120 words. Take the help of the notes are given below:

Trees keep the environment cool by :

(i) taking heat off the Earth and air.

(ii) absorbing carbon dioxide that helps in controlling temperature rise.

(iii) bringing rains.

(iv) checking direct sunlight.

(v) providing shade.

Ans: As the Head Girl/Head Boy of our school, I would like to highlight the numerous advantages of tree plantation and how trees serve as natural air-conditioners. Trees play a crucial role in keeping our environment cool by taking heat off the Earth and air, thereby reducing the overall temperature. They absorb carbon dioxide, which helps in controlling temperature rise and combating climate change. Additionally, trees play a significant role in bringing rain by maintaining the moisture in the atmosphere. They also check direct sunlight, preventing excessive heat from reaching the ground. Moreover, the shade provided by trees offers a natural cooling effect, making outdoor areas more comfortable. Planting trees not only improves air quality but also creates a more pleasant and sustainable environment for all. Let us all contribute to tree plantation and make our surroundings greener and cooler.

10. Answer any one of the following questions in about 100-120 words: 6

a. The People and Surroundings are a great book to learn from. Valli in the lesson 'Madam Rides the Bus' learns a lot from others. Mention the traits of her character which help her to learn from people and her surroundings.

Ans: Valli's character traits, such as curiosity, independence, and observant nature, significantly contribute to her learning from people and her surroundings. Her curiosity drives her to explore and experience new things, like taking a bus ride on her own. Her independence allows her to act on her curiosity without relying on others. Additionally, her observant nature helps her notice and learn from the details of her surroundings, such as the conversations and behaviours of others on the bus. These traits enable Valli to gain valuable insights and experiences from her environment and the people she encounters.

OR

b. Mandela said, "People must learn to hate, and if they can learn to hate, they can be taught to love." Discuss.

Ans: Mandela's statement reflects the idea that hatred is not an inherent trait but something learned through experiences and social conditioning. If hatred can be learned, it implies that love and empathy can also be cultivated through conscious effort and education. This perspective suggests that by addressing the root causes of hatred, such as ignorance and prejudice, and promoting understanding and compassion, people can be guided towards love and mutual respect. Mandela's message underscores the potential for positive change in human behaviour, advocating for education and effort to overcome divisions and foster harmony.

11. Answer any one of the following questions in about 100- 120 words: 6

a. Mme Loisel's disposition invites her doom. Elucidate with reference to the text.

Ans: Mme Loisel's dissatisfaction and vanity play a crucial role in her downfall. She is unhappy with her modest life and yearns for luxury and admiration, leading her to borrow a necklace to appear wealthy at a party. Her pride and desire for a glamorous lifestyle cause her to live beyond her means, resulting in financial ruin when she loses the necklace. The subsequent years of hardship and labor to repay the debt are a direct consequence of her materialistic disposition. Her inability to appreciate her own life and her constant yearning for more lead to her eventual misery and downfall, demonstrating how her character traits invite her own doom.

OR

b. Bholi was believed to be a 'dumb cow'. What turned her into a fearless, bold and confident girl?

Ans: Bholi's transformation into a fearless, bold, and confident girl is largely due to her education and the support of her teacher. Initially considered a 'dumb cow' due to her speech impediment and lack of self-worth, Bholi's outlook changes when she starts attending school. Her teacher's encouragement and the knowledge she gains empower her to stand up for herself. This newfound confidence is evident when Bholi rejects her arranged marriage and speaks out against injustice. The education she receives provides her with the strength and self-esteem to challenge societal norms and assert her own identity, leading to her transformation into a confident individual.
